Jules Laborde, the great French physician, has said: "The American uses up his health to make money and then is forced to spend money in seeking to regain his health." True it is that the strain of business cares and the sexual excesses incident to this nervous tension.—Inherited or acquired, are fast wrecking the health of American men today. This alarming condition has long been fully understood by physicians, and the greatest of the very often takes charge and answers before reason gets a chance.

Successfully Attack Values. New York, Sept. 9.-It was anticipated that the weekly statement of the assocluted banks tomorrow would exhibit a further heavy decrease in surplus reserve holdings. Another large decrease appears certain in the amount of cash held by the local banks, reflecting gold turned into the subtreasury in payment for the new war bonds and the shipment of currency out of town, chiefly to Southern points. The amount of the decrease in surplus reserves will depend upon the extent to which loans have been called by the banks during the week. If, as is understood, there has been a considerable contraction in loans, there will be a smaller contraction in the surplus reserve hold-

Prices in the New York stock market are gradually falling. During the past week there has been hardly a day in which there was any advance and on several days there has been an appreciable drop as a net result of the day's business. Yesterday was the worst day of the week, prices declining from a fraction to more than two points all over the list. Covering of shorts gave an appearance of strength to the market in the early trading, but there was little demand except for that account. Speculative holdings have been thrown over and traders have sold aggressively during Prices in the New York stock market the week. Yesterday was the culmination of the movement. Disappointment in re-gard to St. Paul dividend came at a time when some of the leading interests want-ed a reaction and consequently there has been no support. People who look be been no support. People who look beyond the one day's business are woodering what the outcome of this apparently strong bear feeling will be next week and afterward. There is a large class, which seems to be growing, that believes prices are high enough. However, the principal and the strongest interests now in the market are those who think higher prices will prevail. prices will prevail.

While the St. Paul dividend was a bear argument from the point of view of the market it was not so with the stockholders. The money that could have been used to an increased dividend is in the company's treasury and an extra onehalf per cent would have added little to individual incomes.

The money market had considerable in The local banks marked up their call money rates today generally to 4 per cent. Their action was reflected in a renewal of anxiety on the stock exchange and encouraged the traders for professional account to attack values.

In the opening dealings there were indications of a more favorable opinion next week.

Metropolitan Traction was the strong cet stock of the day and almost the only one in which there was any advance yes stocks, however, is that a great many peo-ple believe Metropolitan is taking the business away from Manhattan and that "It is rather curious that the Scriptural however, was noted in the final dealings although the latter may at times show spasmodic strength as the result of ma-nipulation its tendency will be generally downward for a good many months to come. Trading in Federal Steel common preferred, "when issued," has started on the curb. Blocks of five hundred shares of the common sold at 30 yesterday and late in the day it was quoted at 29 1-2 to 30 1-2. The preferred was offered at 87 and sales are said to have been made at 85.

Northern Pacific preferred was fairly strong during the day owing to good buy-ing orders in London. The commission houses on this side sold, however, and there was a decline of a half during the

There was what appeared to be organ ized selling in Sugar yesterday and many of the large professional interests made heavy sales during the day. The price of the common went down three points dur-ing the day, but rallied toward the close so that the net loss was less than two points. The general opinion about Sugar is still pessimistic as to its immediate future movement.

Investors across the water have caught the cue and their pur-chases of American bonds and stocks have been heavy for several weeks. There are symptoms of another crazy movement in South African and Australian stocks and instead of gold and diamonds by the carload Americans have only dividends to offer, but the transportation business of this continents is a very solid basis for earnings and values

The stock market has been hindered this week by fears of tight money and closes a fraction lower, while the industrials have been still more affected by the ripening of the struggle between competitors in Sugar and Coffee. Wheat has been about I cent higher in price for spot, with West-ern receipts only about as large as those of last year for the week. No doubt, some farmers have learned that it is a poor business to hold back for higher prices and yet very many are doing it and so are making inevitable a more disastrous decline in prices after a time. Prices for woolen goods do not change and a considerable number of the milis will shortly shut down unless the situation improves. In the cotton manufacture there is still a fairly strong demand with print-cloths and staple goods unchanged in price, but the stoppage of some Eastern milis continues.

The volume of all business represented by clearing house exchanges has been 3.1 per cent larger in daily average for September thus far than in 1892, and this, with the returns of railways, indicates a material enlargement in the general volume of traffic.
